The Reading Memorial High School Class of 2006

Reading Memorial High School
62 Oakland Road
Reading, Massachusetts

Out With the Old and In With the New

The original high school was located in downtown reading, but in 1952 it was moved to a newly constructed building on Oakland Road. The high school consisted of the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. As Reading's popularity grew as well as the population throughout the 1960's and 1970's it became clear that the high school need to be renovated. In the mid- 1970's the Hawkes Field House and C building were added. The classrooms of the C building were modeled after a Californian school where there were only three walls per classroom and no common hallway. The C building included a Library Media Center in addition to math and science classrooms. The foreign language classrooms were also originally housed in the C building. In the 1980's it was decided that closed classrooms would be more efficient and practical and walls were built around them. The Superintendent's Office was moved to the bottom of the C building in the early 1990's.

In recent years the possibility for a new school site for RMHS or a possible renovation were discussed. Sites such as Birch Meadow playing fields and the land bordering Camp Curtis Guild were considered, but the final decision called for a partial renovation and the new construction site was decided upon in 2000.

The current building plan calls for a three-year construction project at cost of $54 million dollars. Over the summer the new math and science classrooms and cafeteria were constructed and upon the opening of the 2005-2006 school year many students discovered a significant change in beloved RMHS. More renovation is to come with the complete renovation of the field house as well as a new auditorium and renovation of the B and C buildings.

More changes are still to come to RMHS as the Senior Class says goodbye to the hustle and bustle of construction. The leaky connector, clanking of hammers, buzzing of saws, and the jungle gym like scaffolding will be greatly missed as we venture forward into our new academic homes. Thanks RMHS building for being witness to the memories we've created amongst your walls.

Dedication

Steve Calla

We, the class of 2006 dedicate our yearbook in part to Steven Calla. Steve was diagnosed with rhabdomyosarcoma, a rare cancer of the cells of muscle and connective tissue. Throughout the many months of surgeries and treatments, Steve did not let his illness weaken his spirit. Steve demonstrated incredible maturity and bravery and always kept his head up. Steve also put everyone who knew him at ease with his unfettered sense of humor. To all who knew him Steve was a kind, humorous, talented, and down to earth individual. Just being in his presence was enough to put anybody in a good mood. He was a truly a one of a kind individual, and he has made a life long impression on us all. Although Steve may no longer be with us physically, he will always have a place within our hearts.

Alyssa Dion

Dedication

We, the class of 2006 dedicate our yearbook in part to Alyssa Dion. Alyssa battled Cystic Fibrosis throughout her life. Despite her condition Alyssa always kept a smile on her face, and constantly had people laughing at her witty humor and down-to-earth charm. Her teachers knew her as the life of the class, and her friends knew her as an inspiration. She had the ability to make light of any situation, and always knew the right thing to say to cheer up her friends. Her optimism and upbeat attitude never let her Cystic Fibrosis weigh her down. We will always remember her love for soccer and lacrosse, eating multiple push-up pop ice creams in one lunch period, and her ability to make everyone smile. Although small, we can all agree that she was one of the strongest people we will ever meet. As we graduate this year and go on to face future endeavors, we will keep in our hearts Alyssa's amazing life, selfless attitude, and strength. We would like to remember the immense impact Alyssa had on our lives by dedicating the 2006 yearbook to her. We miss you Alyssa.

Dear Class of 2006,

The Class of 2006 had many accomplishments during the years in academics, drama, music and athletics. In so many ways students in the Class of 2006 have brought honor and recognition to both Reading Memorial High School and to the entire Reading community. It has been my privilege to be the superintendent of such a fine group of young men and young women.

As you embark on a new leg of life's journey, I hope you will have fond memories of Reading Memorial High School, of your teachers, and of the friends you have made here. On behalf of the Reading School Committee, the administration and staff of the Reading Public Schools, I congratulate you on completing your education here in Reading and wish you a healthy, happy and successful future.

Sincerely,

Patrick A. Schettini, Jr.
Superintendent of Schools

Dear Members of the Class of 2006:

Congratulations to an outstanding senior class! I am most fortunate to have had the opportunity to be your principal for your junior and senior years at Reading Memorial High School. Graduation from high school marks the first of the many great achievements you will accomplish in your lives.

In this yearbook, you will find photographs, essays and personal write-ups that tell the story of your four years at RMHS. When you look at these pictures today, you will recall many of the activities that you and your classmates have shared. Whether it be a special lab in science, a moving presentation in social studies or a particularly challenging test in mathematics; these vivid memories will remain with you and help define your high school years. Memories of Crazy for You, band competitions, the building project, clubs or a particularly satisfying win or a devastating loss in athletics, will always be close to the surface. In the years ahead, you will share this yearbook with new friends and family and tell them of your experiences in high school. As Longfellow wrote "the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

You graduate from RMHS a much different person than the one who entered in the ninth grade. As a class, you have shared both the happiest and saddest of times together. Please realize that you have left your imprint on RMHS. You have impacted not only your classmates, but you have left a positive legacy for underclassmen and teachers alike.

Thank you for all that you have given us at RMHS. Your commitment, hard work and dedication to RMHS will be your legacy.

Sincerely,

Joseph L. Finigan

Dear Class of 2006,
 Your class is special to me for I have known many, many of you for seven years of your academic life—from your 6th grade fears and fantasizing to your 12th grade trepidations and tricks. No other class in my career have I known for as long. Therefore, our memories run long and deep.

For others in the class, we have been together for at least two years. I thank you all for having been part of my “sunrise” each day, rain or shine! You have taught me much about life and living. You have given me much upon which to reflect with the day-to-day problems we have overcome. In truth, I have enjoyed watching you and your dreams grow up.

Remember that a school is not the building—old or new!— but the people inside of it. Remember that “the important things that happen(ed) in schools happen(ed) between people.” (The people in this yearbook!) And remember your smile is your “good people” sensor. Now, I wish you life, laughter, and love....and not one of them can you truly enjoy without others. [Take that, you stupid devices!]
 Congratulations, Gang!

Dear Class of 2006,

Having a son in this class, residing in the community, and being availed the good fortune to get to know many of you in different capacities throughout your elementary, middle school, and high school experiences, I have had the pleasure of seeing you grow physically, intellectually, emotionally, and socially.

You have consistently demonstrated that you have been willing to elect class officers who would be good leaders, not merely because they might be popular, that you are caring, considerate, and respectful of your fellow classmates and teachers, that you comport yourselves with maturity, class, and distinction, and that you are a credit to your school and to your parents. It is not surprising that I have been so proud to describe you on numerous occasions as being an excellent class and one of the best classes at Reading Memorial High School in several years.

Although I will miss you as you “leave the nest,” I look forward to follow you closely in your future endeavors knowing that you will continue to grow, flourish, and be successful. As William Shakespeare so aptly wrote, “Parting is such sweet sorrow.”

Good Luck and Best Wishes!

Respectfully,

Senior Class Advisors

The Class of 2006 owes much to Mr. McCarthy and Ms. Gleason for the memorable experiences we've had in the last four years. They've devoted their time, energy, and support into helping create events such as proms, Senior activities, dances, fundraisers, and much much more. The senior class would like to thank Mr. McCarthy and Ms. Gleason for the unwavering support and commitment to our class and we wish them nothing but the best in the future

"Racki the llama"

In the fields of lake wobegone sat Racki the llama. Racki spent his days chewing cud and daydreaming. One day, Racki was sitting peacefully by the babbling brook. While walking across a wobbly cobblestone path, Racki slipped and fell into the icy water. Racki was helpless to the current that was overtaking him. Cold, wet, and scared, Racki fainted. When he awoke he was surrounded by friendly black bears who had saved his life.

memories made. I treasure each experience and will hold on to them as long as I live. To all my friends, thank you for being who you are, I would not be the same without you. Mom and Dad, you supported and have been there for me, I truly thanks you.

Are you going to live your life wondering?
 Standing in the back, looking around?
 Are you gonna waste your time thinking
 How you've grown up
 Or how you've missed out?
 Things are never going to be the way you want
 Where's it gonna get you acting serious?

My name is Ty. I'm six feet with mahogany eyes. Arts are my passion. RMHS Drama will always be in my heart. An ideal combination of acting, dancing, singing, CORE, and set design filled my 4 years of high school with joy. Badminton is my favorite sport. A perfect date includes disco bowling with best friends Griffin and Mike. Then break away for a romantic game of Monopoly. A also enjoy spicy cheeses and short walks on the beach.

The past, the present, and the future. Time that has passed, time in the here and now, time in the later sense. We can not stop the flow of time, but rather only embrace it and try to make it stretch. Waste not a single precious drop of this slippery substance, but drink you fill of memories and laughter, and when you reach the vast ocean at the end of you life, do so with a smile and a sigh...

We were born to make manifest the glory of God that is within us. It is not just in some of us; it is in everyone. And as we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people the permission to do the same. As we are liberated from our own fear, our presence automatically liberates others.

I moved here from North Carolina in 2000. Since moving here I've made a lot of great friends and memories. After high school I plan to go to college and study criminal justice. I would like to thank my aunt and uncle for all they have done for me.

Clubs & Activities

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The Senior Class Officers serve as organizers for senior Class Events such as Spirit Week, The Prom, Class Trips, and the Senior Banquet. Class Officers: Joey Riccardi, Dan McCarron, Griffin Scarpitto, Lindsey Hoyt, Dan Finigan, Heather Lautmann, Julia Feltus, Vee Rogers, Whitney MacLeod, Sean Matthews, Chris Angelini, Pete Kwiatek

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council is a group of students from all four grades at RMHS. Student council works on many different projects throughout the school year and the biggest even is the Pep rally. We provide services to the whole student body like Datamatches, carnation sales, and we organize caps and gowns for the seniors. At the end of the year student council gives away two scholarships to distinguished students.

Junior Class Office

Sophomore Class Office

Freshman Class Office

Amnesty International

RMHS Amnesty International is a branch of the worldwide human rights organization. Through weekly discussion and letter writing campaigns, Amnesty seeks to raise awareness and to alleviate worldwide human rights abuses. The club also selects one or two issues each year on which to focus more closely. These issues have included the death penalty, the use of child soldiers, and genocide in Sudan. Amnesty invites speakers and organizes rallies and fundraisers to educate the public about these issues and to work toward their solutions. Amnesty is a nonpartisan, non-religiously affiliated group that welcomes students of all ages, interests and political persuasions.

Animae Club

The animae club is comprised of a small group of interested students dedicated to drawing this form of Japanese art. They meet weekly after school in order to display their talent.

Band

Band is composed of members seeking to improve their musical skills and repertoire. In the marching band season, we compete in many competitions, parades, and football games as well as practice every week and weekend. During the concert band season, we have numerous concerts. Among us are talented musicians who truly enjoy music.

Chess

Chorus

We are a group of energetic young people who strive to improve our vocal skills through our wide repertoire and our various entertaining stylistic pieces. Among us are student accompanists, talented vocalists, and in general, individuals who seek to brighten our days through the enjoyment of music, which is an essential part of a rounded education. Chorus is the environment in which we learn to let our spirits as well as our voices, soar.

Community Service Club

The Reading Memorial High School Community Service Club is a volunteer student service organization, which meets weekly after school. It is open to all students at RMHS who choose to participate. In the past, Community Service Club members have organized a toy drive, a courtyard cleanup, a clothing drive, assisted in the Reading Technology Fund activities, and organized bake sales to raise money for nearby homeless shelters.

Contemporary Film and Arts Society

The Contemporary Film and Arts Society is built upon the concept of the great importance of film to humanity. Each week we choose a different, enlightening or enjoyable film. It is both an inspirational and happy experience with each meeting.

Current Events

Current Events Club was founded in 2004 because many students were dying to share their opinions and ideas as a result of the controversial presidential election. Current Events usually met each Friday after school, where students would come to talk about anything and everything going on around them; such topics that were brought up ranged from issues of religious toleration, to abortion, to the mystery of giant squids. Also, we had AWESOME homemade brownies at every meeting. Current Events has been a great forum for all students to share their ideas in an environment free of a particular political affliction.

Mock Trial

Mock Trial is a team of students interested in the fields of acting, role playing, and the court system. Every year the students receives a case to argue against other schools at various court houses.

Drama Club

The Drama Club has well over one hundred members spanning three seasons including cast and crew. Each year begins with the fall musical, this year's being Crazy for You. The Drama Club includes students with many talents and performs wonderful plays for the school and community.

Juniors and Seniors

Sophomores and Freshmen

Gay/ Straight Alliance

The Gay Straight Alliance is dedicated to help RMHS to be more open to differences. We want to have a place where people can express their opinions and feel safe.

Impressions

The Impressions club produces a literary magazine that features student artwork and writings. They also sponsor coffeehouses featuring performances by Reading Memorial High School students.

International Club

The International Club provides opportunities for students to learn about world cultures by experiencing a variety of local multicultural events. In past years we have attended performances of world music, theater, dance, opera, and foreign films, have visited ethnic restaurants, prepared foreign foods, and have held fundraisers to aid the less fortunate.

Latin

The Latin Club watches movies as well as participates in fun Latin themed events. Student Leaders, David Lohnes and David Sage

Math Team

Math Club includes all students who participate in any math contests or competitions during the school year

Art

The Art Club is an after school organization that explores different art media. Its goal is to promote art appreciation and help to beautify our school.

National History Day

National History Day is an academic program that encourages students to explore historical themes through a variety of mediums: papers, performances, exhibits, and documentaries. NHD is a many-tiered competition beginning within the school and expanding into the district and state levels and culminating in the National Contest held in Washington D.C.

National Honor Society

Members of National Honor Society are selected beginning in the spring of their Junior year based on Scholarship, Service, Leadership, and Character. The club conducts several service projects each year.

Rocket News

Pictured above are the writers and editors of Reading Memorial's School Newspaper. We have a staff of writers who write articles on everything from happenings at the high school, advice, as well as both local and professional sports.

Students Against Drunk Driving

The students work closely together to develop activities and create a bulletin to make our peers aware of the consequences of illegal actions such as drinking and driving. We present these activities in the most realistic ways that we can so it will have the most effect on everyone.

Science Club

Ski and Snowboard Club

The Leo Club

Leo Club is a student affiliation of the Reading Lions Club. Amont many community service projects, the Leo Club works closely with the Lion's Club members on their goal to assist the needy in obtaining eye glasses. Every fall the Leo Club memebbers run a campaign to collect used eye glass frames that can be recycled for those who are in need of glasses.

Vernal Pool

Our goal is to encourage the appreciation, protection and interdisciplinary study of vernal pools, particularly by students. To meet this objective, we produce educational materials, present workshops and talks, and interact with educators and students both in person and through the Internet. We are actively involved with state, federal and private environmental protection and education agencies and organizations.

Vive La France

Vive la France is dedicated to the appreciation of the French language and culture! We meet to improve our French speaking skills through conversation, discussion of current events, French movies and music. Vive la France is comprised of both aspirant and full-fledged Francophiles

Web Club

Young Democrats

Young Democrats is made up of students from every area of democratic political spectrum, from those just left of the middle to the extremely liberal. Students meet weekly to discuss developments in national politics, to monitor activity in the Democratic Party, and to actively participate in democratic political campaigns.

Young Republicans

The Reading Memorial high School Young Republicans Club meets weekly after school and is open to all students at RMHS who want to promote conservative and Republican ideals. Members of the Young republicans participate in a variety of community service endeavors, sponsoring debates and forums, and assist with promoting and supporting conservative and Republican candidates for political office.

Yearbook

These awesome individuals masterfully design the yearbook for the graduating class of 2006. Yearbook is intensive and invigorating. We have spent many a long Friday night (and many an early morning) working on creating a beautiful, living document that we hope will sustain you for years to come.

Here it is '06, your yearbook! It's been eight months since we started this "project" and we never expected to see the day when it was done and in your hands. The making of this yearbook has been one of the most frustrating, confusing, and difficult processes we've ever endured, but seeing the final product was worth it all.

These past four years have blown by and it seems like just yesterday we were entering the decrepit old building for freshman orientation, but here we are about to graduate and go our separate ways. As you leave RMHS remember your friends, teachers and everyone who has helped you get through it all. Look back at your experiences at RMHS as ones you'll never forget. Although this yearbook cannot possibly fit all of the great memories we've made over the years, we hope that years from now you can dig out this book and reminisce.

Thanks RMHS for an awesome four years!

but I never knew looking back on the laughs would make me cry."*

Good Luck Class of 2006!

Hurricanes ravage the Gulf Coast region in the fall of 2005, posing an unprecedented test of the United States federal emergency response efforts. Hundreds of lives are lost and thousands are left homeless in the wake of Category 4 Hurricane Katrina, followed by Rita and Wilma. The tragedy spurs contributions of money, talents, homes, food and more in an attempt to raise spirits and rebuild the area.

August

- 25 Hurricane Katrina strikes Florida.
- 28 Mandatory evacuation of both New Orleans and Mississippi is ordered as Katrina becomes a Category 5 storm in the Gulf of Mexico.
- 29 Downgraded to a Category 4 storm, Katrina hits land. 1.3 million homes and businesses lose electricity in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. 30 levees are breeched, flooding New Orleans and leaving 100,000 people stranded. After slow government response, civil unrest and looting begins.
- 31 President Bush surveys the damage.

September

- 1 30,000 National Guard troops are deployed. Gas prices spike to as high as $5 per gallon.
- 2 President Bush visits Louisiana and signs a $10.5 billion relief bill. Nearly 154,000 evacuees arrive in Texas.
- 4 The New Orleans Superdome is evacuated.
- 6 President Bush and Congress pledge to investigate the flawed disaster response.
- 9 Government-issued debit cards are distributed to evacuees. The program fails and is ended days later.
- 12 Michael Brown, head of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, resigns. Flooding is down to 50 percent in New Orleans.
- 14 New Orleans Mayor Ray Nagin announces a phased repopulation plan.
- 15 New Orleans begins to reopen. Katrina is named the most destructive hurricane in U.S. history.
- 20 Louisiana Governor Kathleen Blanco declares a state of emergency as Hurricane Rita strengthens off the coast.
- 22 Rita hits the Louisiana coast and heads for Texas.
- 23 Thousands evacuate eastern Texas and the 9th Ward of New Orleans floods once again after levees are overrun.

October

- 24 Hurricane Wilma hits southwest Florida.
